

SHOOTER DIES TAKING VICTIM TO HOSPITAL

A Puerto Rican orchard worker was killed Sunday evening in an auto crash a short distance north of Biglerville, while, police say, he was rushing a Mt. Holly Springs woman to the Warner Hospital after he had shot her six times after an argument.

The dead man is Augusto Mercado Solivan, 32, of Gettysburg R. 3 and Miami, Fla., an orchard boss who came here for the sour cherry harvest.

In the Warner Hospital is Mrs. Gertrude Viola Tyler, 44, Mt. Holly Springs, in a "satisfactory condition" with six bullet wounds and less serious auto accident injuries.

The third occupant of the car, Luis C. Alvarado, Gettysburg R. 3, also a Puerto Rican orchard worker, escaped the crash with bruises and is being held in the county jail as a material witness while Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, and state police from the Gettysburg substation continue their investigation.

CHECK SHOOTING

The investigators said the early stages of their checkup of the shooting and auto fatality show that the .22-calibre gun used by the crash victim in the shooting was the property of Alvarado.

The 1953 Cadillac involved in the accident also belonged to Alvarado.

The gun used in the shooting of Mrs. Tyler, alleged tossed into a tomato patch after the crash by Alvarado, was recovered there and turned over to the authorities.

State police said there had been an argument at a home a short distance north of the accident scene and Solivan shot Mrs. Tyler six times and then began the dash to the Warner Hospital with Alvarado in the latter's car. Solivan was at the wheel.

As he attempted to overtake and pass another southbound car, Solivan lost control of the car, while traveling at a high speed. It ran off the left side of the highway, recrossed the road and struck concrete steps in front of the home of Dale E. Ecker, close to the Biglerville borough line. The impact swung the car around and Solivan was thrown out. One side of his head was crushed and Dr. Crist said he died instantly.

The car that Solivan was attempting to pass narrowly escaped a collision.

Alvarado was taken to jail and Mrs. Tyler to the Warner Hospital where she was treated for bullet wounds of the right side, the breast, an elbow, a hip, the abdomen and her back. She is given a better than even chance to recover.

The time of the crash was given as 6:15 p.m. and the argument took place a short time before. Cause of the disagreement leading up to the shooting has not been determined by the police.

Three brothers of the deceased came here with him for the cherry harvest. They are Roman, Edward and Baldozer and these brothers and sisters reside in Puerto Rico, the undertaker said after a session with an interpreter: Juan, Ramiro, Victor, Juanita and Marcarita. The dead man was the son of Eduardo and Louisa Solivan of Puerto Rico.

Private funeral services will be held at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday from the Peters Funeral Home.

Blame Shower For Double Accident

No one was hurt in a two-car collision Saturday at 1:20 p.m. in the 700 block of Broadway, Hanover.

Hanover police said that Betty M. Baker, Abbottstown R. 1, was operating her car west on Broadway when she attempted to wind up the front window of the car due to the rain. Her vehicle ran into the rear of a parked car owned by John Brenneman, 530 Broadway, and, veering across the street, came to a halt when it hit the porch of the house at 739 Broadway, owned by Marlin Warehouse.

Police estimated the damage to the Baker car at $400, to the Brenneman car at $600 and to the porch at $100.

2 HEAT MARKS FOR YEAR SET OVER WEEKEND

The weatherman came up with two new heat records over the weekend as the hot, humid weather continued through today. Tuesday's forecast indicates more of the same is in the offing.

Saturday was the hottest day here so far this year and the hottest day in Gettysburg since the summer of 1959. The Gettysburg Times weather records showed.

The maximum reading at the Times weather station Saturday afternoon was 95 degrees. The previous high for the year was 94 degrees on the afternoon of July 1, a mark that was equaled here on Sunday afternoon.

SCATTERED SHOWERS

With skies overcast much of Sunday afternoon, the high temperature for the day was held to 94 degrees while nearby thunder showers failed to bring relief from the heat but only added to the humidity. There was not enough rain to measure Sunday at the Times weather station but the southern edge of town got a heavy but brief downpour in mid-afternoon and Hunterstown had a heavy rain that cancelled a ball game. In between there were only a few drops of rain. Other parts of the county had local showers, too.

Sunday night set a record as the hottest night so far this year. The low reading at the Times weather station was 73 degrees and the high humidity made the heat all the more oppressive. The previous nocturnal heat record here this summer was 71 degrees recorded on several occasions.

Saturday's new heat record for 1961 was the hottest day here in two years. The high mark in the summer of 1959 was 98 degrees on July 1. Last summer the hottest day had a maximum of only 92 degrees. That mark was reached in April and again in August.

Will Give Space Craft To Moon Million Mile Test In Next Few Days Says N.A.S.A.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Ranger I spacecraft—first version of a vehicle that later this year may crash-land on the moon—will be launched on a million-mile round-trip journey into space within the next few days.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration described in detail today its newest and most complicated experiment in lunar and planetary exploration. But NASA declined to give the exact date the launch attempt will be made at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

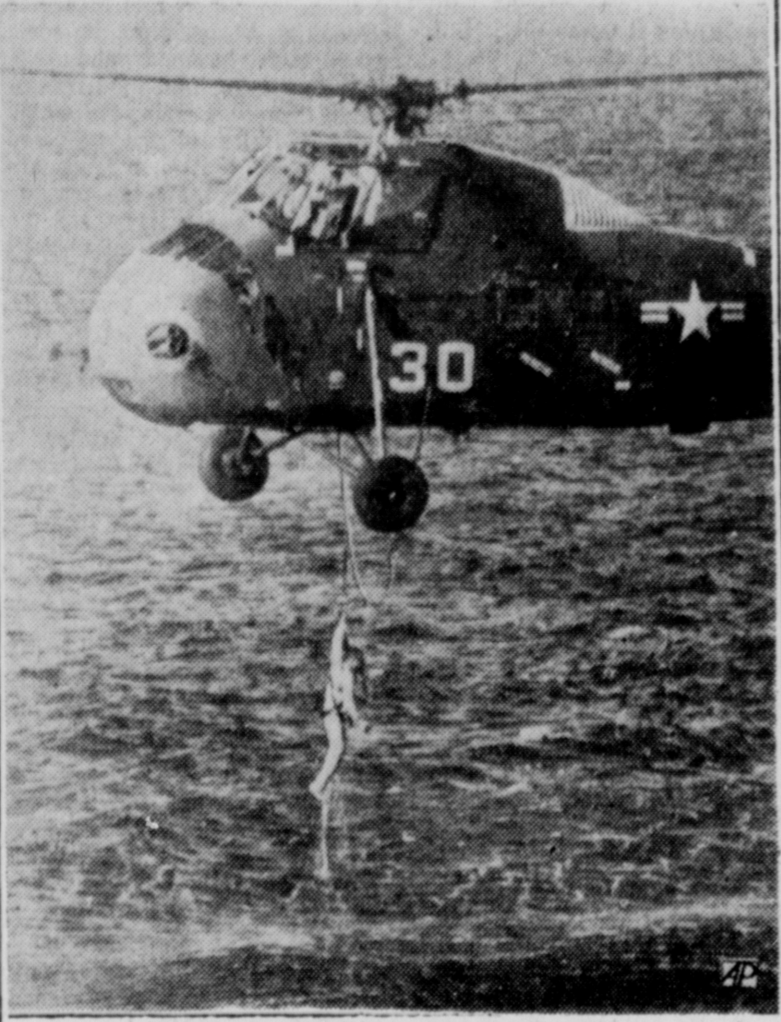

NASA said the 675-pound Ranger will be fired first into a brief "parking orbit" 115 miles above the earth. For about 13 minutes Ranger I will zoom along at 18,000 miles an hour, high above the Atlantic Ocean, as though it were a regulation earth satellite.

685,000-MILE TRIP

Then its Agena-B second-stage rocket will fire up for a second time to accelerate Ranger I to a velocity of 23,800 miles an hour and start it on a trajectory 685,000 miles out into space. It deliberately will not be aimed at the moon.

Civil War Hall Of Fame At Manassas May Be Built

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
MANASSAS BATTLEFIELD, Va. (AP)—A big dream of Civil War buffs may be a bit nearer realization today because of the grand commemorative staging of the first battle of Manassas or Bull Run.

Maj. Gen. William C. Fry (ret), hard-working manager of the spectacle staged in searing heat that reached 102 degrees, said he hoped not only to clear expenses of about $175,000 but to have some left over to put in the kitty for a Civil War Hall of Fame at Manassas.

A $5-million drive is under way to establish the Hall of Fame. No dead museum of the old-fashioned type, it would include such features as revolving chairs from which visitors could watch battles unfold on devices mounted on the walls. It would stress, not old enmities, but present amity.

REMINDER OF PAST

Capt. Eugene H. Breitenberg, U.S.A., who read the prologue before each enactment, told reporters: "This is a commemoration of the American heritage, a reminder of a spirit that must be ever renewed. The men of the Civil War had deeply rooted beliefs and were willing to fight for them."

The rehearsal on Friday developed some bugs, as rehearsals always do, but the show got progressively better Saturday and Sunday. The blues and grays—many of them teen-agers—stood up to the heat in their old-time woolen uniforms to fight the surging mock battle back and forth across the Manassas hills.

The action showed the highlights of the first major Civil War battle, when a green Union army under Gen. Irvin McDowell came down from Washington to smash the Confederates and press

SHEELY RULES ON 2 ISSUES IN PETITION

In a nine-page opinion handed down by Judge W. C. Sheely in court here Saturday, he disposed of two preliminary questions in the proposed incorporation of the village of Bonneville as a borough without making any final determination on the petition to incorporate.

In Saturday's opinion, Judge Sheely dismissed a petition to withdraw signatures from the petition for incorporation.

At the same time the court overruled the preliminary objections to the petition for exclusion of farm lands and the "incorporators are directed to file an answer thereto within 15 days."

TWO ISSUES

The two issues before the court in this opinion were stated as follows: "Within what time after a petition for incorporation of a borough is filed may parties aggrieved request the court to change the boundaries of the proposed borough so as to exclude their land exclusively used for the purpose of farming or other large and unsettled lands; and after the filing of a petition for incorporation of a borough and after a hearing has been held thereon, may the court permit signers thereof to withdraw their signatures."

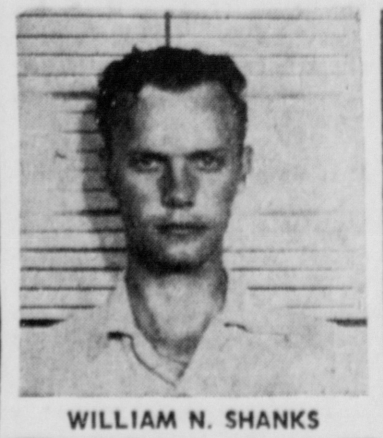

"These questions must be determined before the application for incorporation can be considered on its merits," the court wrote.

Reviewing the Bonneville action, Judge Sheely wrote:

SHEELY'S REVIEW

"A petition was filed praying for the incorporation of a section of Mt. Pleasant Township into the Borough of Bonneville, the area to be included containing approximately 750 acres of which approximately 700 acres is farm land. Notice of the filing of the petition stating when and where it was filed, the time during which exceptions could be filed thereto, and the time fixed for hearing thereon, was duly advertised as required by law. Exceptions were filed by the supervisors of Mt. Pleasant Township who also appeared at the hearing and gave testimony in opposition thereto. No other persons filed (Continued On Page 2)

Missing Bookkeeper Thief Is Being Sought As Prime Suspect In Bank Robbery

WILLIAM N. SHANKS

The Maryland State Police have issued a 14-state alarm for the arrest of William Neal Shanks, 26, Littlestown R. 1, the missing Penn-Moc Shoe Company bookkeeper who disappeared May 1 with $52,000 of the company's funds, as the prime suspect in the holdup last Friday morning of the bank at Union Mills, Md.

Shanks, who has a police record in Maryland, has been sought since May 3 for taking funds of the Fairfield shoe firm through check forgeries and bogus telegrams.

State Police at Westminster told The Gettysburg Times this morning that a photo of Shanks shown to the branch manager, George Smeak, had not been identified positively as the holdup man but Smeak says it "looks a lot like him."

HAVE AUTO CLUE

The police also said that Shanks is known to have been in the Union Mills branch of the Westminster Trust Company to cash a check in April. Whether it was one of the Penn-Moc Shoe Company checks was not certain today.

Another bit of evidence to link Shanks with the Union Mills hold-up was the fact that when he was last located in Las Vegas, Nev., about June 8, he was driving a yellow station wagon that was several years old. The bank bandit was also driving an old yellow station wagon when he made his getaway, police were told.

State Police here said they have had no word of Shanks' movements since he left Las Vegas in early June in the company of a young blonde who was not identified. When he left Fairfield in May he was believed to have been driving a blue Cadillac convertible which he had bought with cash in Hanover a few days earlier.

DISCOVER SHORTAGES

Shanks has not been seen here since noon on May 1 when he left the Fairfield shoe plant. Next day a woman called the company office to say Shanks was ill and would not be in. Police were called in May 3 after Company Treasurer Carl Filsinger started to go over the books and discovered the mounting shortages.

The bank holdup man who did not wear a mask and who generally answers Shanks' description pointed a long-barreled target pistol at Smeak after he had asked for change for a $100 bill. Smeak was ordered to open the vault and the bandit left after scooping up $2,000 or more in small denomination bills.

Roadblocks were set up but no trace was found of the holdup car after it had been reported headed toward the Pennsylvania state line.

In another development over the loss of the Penn-Moc funds to Shanks, the Fairfield Shoe Company has sued the Fairfield Bank in Adams County court for $28,819 which it claims was paid out by the bank on forged papers issued by Shanks.

BOLT CAUSES $75,000 FIRE THIS MORNING

Lightning struck a barn on the farm of the John C. Forry Hides and Tallow Co., Hanover R. 1, Union Twp., along the Pine Grove Rd. about 6:15 o'clock this morning and the fire which resulted caused an estimated $75,000 damage to the 60-by-40 foot structure and equipment inside the barn, according to Littlestown Fire Chief Richard Stuller.

Stuller said that the lightning also put Forry's phone out of order and as a result, Forry had to drive to Pennville, just outside of Hanover, for help. The Pennville Fire Company alerted the quick call operator at the engine house here which sounded the alarm.

When the firemen arrived on the scene, Stuller said, there was very little they could do to save the structure and equipment. The building burned to the ground, he added.

The Pleasant Hill Fire Company also was called but their services were not needed.

Serious Crimes Hit New High Says FBI Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — There were more serious crimes in the United States last year than in any year in history, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover reported today. The surge of lawlessness reflected an astounding 96 per cent increase over 1950, he said.

By the FBI's crime clock there was a murder every 58 minutes. A forcible rape every 34 minutes.

An aggravated assault every 4 minutes.

PATTERN OF VIOLENCE

A robbery every 6 minutes. These chilling statistics shaped the pattern of violence in 1960 with a serious crime committed every 15 seconds or a total of 1,861,300.

Hoover noted in the big rise in crime over 1950 that the population increase for the decade was only 18 per cent.

The FBI data, published in the annual "Uniform Crime Reports," covered information supplied by more than 7,700 police agencies, and showed that 1960 topped 1959 by 14 per cent in murders, forcible rapes, robberies, aggravated assaults, burglaries, auto thefts and larcenies of $50 or more.

Crimes against property, Hoover said, were in general even more frequent, with a burglary every 39 seconds, a major larceny every minute, a car theft every two minutes.

By major categories, robberies and burglaries were each up 18 per cent over 1959, larcenies 14 per cent, auto thefts 9 per cent. Murders had a sharp 6 per cent rise. Aggravated assaults increased by 5 per cent and forcible rapes by 3 per cent.

There were 3,640 arrests for each 100,000 persons during the year with city arrests running at about three times the rural rate.

4 ARE KILLED IN CAR CRASH

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — An automobile slammed into the side of and wedged partly under a tractor-trailer Sunday, killing all four occupants of the car.

State police said the accident occurred shortly after the car crossed some railroad tracks near here, apparently at high speed, and the driver, Richard Carl, 27, lost control.

Killed with him were Mrs. Jean Greenwalt, 22, Mrs. Juanita Reich, 30, and Mrs. Jeanne Lowery, 25.

Police said the victims, all residents of Lancaster, were believed to have been at a club here a short time before the crash but that their destination was unknown.

Mrs. Lowery and Mrs. Greenwalt each are survived by a husband and four children. Mrs. Reich by a husband and a son. Carl was divorced and his son lived with his former wife.

The truck driver, Dewey Lee Jones, 29, of Greensboro, N. C., escaped the crash with a cut wrist.

ANNA BRINGS STORM WINDS

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane winds lashed the British Honduras coast today and dangerous flash floods were forecast for a wide area.

Anna, the season's first hurricane, was about 20 miles east of Mangrove Creek, British Honduras, at 5 a.m., a spot close to the Guatemala-British Honduras border. Its force was dwindling a little but the peril to Central America was far from ended.

"All interests around the Gulf of Honduras and especially along the Guatemala and nearby coastal areas should continue precautions against tides of 10 feet and hurricane force winds," the Weather Bureau said.

"Heavy rains will cause dangerous flash floods in this same area and through all of British Honduras."

At the latest report, Anna's winds had dropped from 90 to 85 miles an hour. Gales extended northward for 125 miles and southward for 50 miles.

CLEAN TIBER IS DISCUSSED THIS MORNING

"The Tiber" was the main topic at this morning's meeting between Second Ward residents and Burgess Wilbur L. Plank in council chambers regarding the sanitation committee's plans to clean up Gettysburg.

The dozen or so people who were present felt that steps should be taken to clean the entire Tiber.

Burgess Plank has ordered residents who live along the Tiber not to throw debris, such as tree limbs or grass, into the stream, and he added that he will instruct the police to enforce this rule. Plank also noted that every time it rains, the Tiber becomes filled with soil and he has asked council to remedy this situation.

PART IS CEMENTED

One section of the Tiber has already been cemented and plans call for the complete stream to be so treated. The Burgess also said that once the creek is cleaned up, he hopes residents who own property along the stream will keep the grass mowed.

The two groups also discussed the Rock Creek situation and garbage burning. Plank said he hopes council will establish legislation soon prohibiting burning debris in back yards.

Those present at this morning's meeting were: Mrs. James Schwenk, of the borough council health committee; Mrs. Pearl Wiser, representing the Women's Civic Council; Officer Russell Potter who has charge of the Second Ward cleanup; Jack Libby and John A. Sheffer Jr., from the state sanitation department.

Next Monday in council chambers, another meeting in the series will be held at 9:30 o'clock with emphasis on the Third Ward.

HAMILTON AND CAREY PUT IN HALL OF FAME

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Baseball reached into the past to honor two of its former stars today when Max Carey and the late Billy Hamilton were inducted formally into the Hall of Fame. Bronze plaques of Carey and Hamilton were to be unveiled in front of the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in this historic community of 2,500, swollen to 10,000 for the occasion.

Carey, 71, was able to accept the honors personally. Hamilton, who died in 1940, was to be represented by members of his family.

After the nostalgic anecdotes of the morning ceremonies, the baseball crowd moved up the street a few hundred yards to Doubleday Field where the Los Angeles Dodgers and Baltimore Orioles were to play for the Hall of Fame Cup.

STEAL MANY BASES

In an era of booming home runs that threaten to break Babe Ruth's old record of 1927, two old-timers were being honored for their base stealing skills. Incredible as it may seem in the present day, Hamilton once stole 115 bases for Philadelphia in the National League in 1891 and wound up his career with 937 stolen bases, counting two years with Kansas City in the American Association which then considered itself a major league.

Carey, called "Scoop" for his ability to come in fast on short fly balls, led the National in stolen bases for 10 years. In 1922 he was thrown out only twice in 53 attempts.

TUNIS CLAIMS FRENCH HAVE DEFIED U.N.

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

TUNIS (AP) — The Tunisian government charged today that French troops were landing on the beach five miles west of Bizerte. It said that was in defiance of the U.N. cease-fire that halted the hard fighting in the city astride the approach to France's big naval and air base on the north Tunisian coast.

The Tunisian information minister said landing barges put French units ashore in the Cap Blanc area near the village of Nador.

Although the Tunisians did not say where the French landing units came from, the French government in Paris, assumed that they were being accused of landing reinforcements from outside Tunisia and said the report was false.

EXPLAIN MOVEMENT

A government spokesman said the Cap Blanc area lay within the French perimeter established during the Bizerte fighting and that there may have been some movement of men within the perimeter, giving rise to belief that reinforcements were landing.

The Tunisian government invoked new restrictive measures against France as officials awaited the arrival of U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

El Aouina airfield, Tunisia's only international airport, was closed to all Air France planes. Air liaison with France was maintained by the national airline Tunis Air, which has an average of two flights daily.

FRENCH CITIZENS

French citizens in Tunisia were ordered to get special authorization before leaving the country. French assets in Tunisian banks were blocked. The banks already had been ordered to change no French money.

Tension remained high with French tanks and paratroopers standing watch through battle-scarred Bizerte and weary, watchful Tunisian forces holding out in the native Casbah.

670 DEAD

The Tunisian News Agency reported a total of 670 dead had been counted in Bizerte and put the wounded at 1,500.

The Tunis press charged new "provocations" and violations of the truce by the French. Those reports said French planes had flown over the towns of Kasserine in the north and El Kef, near the Algerian frontier.

SHEELY RULES

exceptions or appeared in opposition.

"After the hearing had been concluded and the matter was in the hands of the court for final decision, a petition was presented signed by 19 persons (in some cases both husband and wife signed) alleging that land belonging to them was embraced within the boundaries of the proposed borough and that such lands are exclusively used for the purpose of farming or are large and unsettled and do not properly belong to the proposed borough, and praying the court to change the boundaries of the proposed Borough of Bonneville so as to exclude such lands therefrom. The 'incorporators' filed preliminary objections to this petition alleging that it was not timely filed since it was not filed within the time allowed for exceptions to the petition for incorporation or prior to the hearing on that petition.

"At the time fixed for argument on the preliminary objections counsel for the persons seeking to have their lands excluded filed another petition signed by 60 persons who had signed the original petition for incorporation asking permission to have their names withdrawn from the original petition. Questions raised by the two petitions were argued together."

FURTHER OPINION

After citing a number of sections of the law applying to this case and discussing each, Judge Sheely wrote further:

"From this review of the development of the law relative to the inclusion of farm land within a borough it will be seen that the petitioners for exclusion are incorrect in their argument that the court cannot lawfully incorporate a village so as to include within the boundaries a large body of surround farm lands.

"At the same time such lands should not be included against the wishes of its owners unless the land is so related to the developed portion that it will naturally and within a reasonable time come to be built up and improved, or is essential to the operation of the functions of the proposed borough. In this area of the law there is the principle of self-determination giving the land owners the right, within limits, of determining the form of government they desire. It is not difficult to conceive of many abuses that would follow if a small group could impose their will arbitrarily upon individual owners of large tracts of land.

"In view of what has been said, and particularly in view of the fact that the petition for incorporation includes approximately 750 acres of land of which approximately 700 acres is farm land, we are constrained to allow the present requests for exclusion to be filed and to direct a hearing thereon. . . .

SIGNING PETITION

"A party has the right to sign or refrain from signing a petition, and might withdraw his signature after signing and before the petition has fulfilled its purpose. But after the petition has fulfilled its purpose — in this case the attachment of jurisdiction by the court — a party cannot withdraw his signature without just cause.

"Counsel for the petitioners to withdraw concedes that they may not withdraw their signatures to the original petition. He contends however that the petition should be considered by the court as evidence of opposition to the incorporation by persons in the area affected.

"The difficulty with this contention, however, is that the method prescribed by the Borough Code for opposing incorporation of a borough is by filing exceptions which must be done within 30 days of the filing of the petition and before hearing thereon. To permit the present petition to be considered as evidence in the case would be the equivalent of permitting exceptions to be filed after the time limit of the statute. Furthermore, it would be most dangerous for a court to be influenced by petitions in the determination of facts which must be determined from testimony produced at a hearing at which all parties may be present and be heard and may cross-examine witnesses.

DID NOT UNDERSTAND

"The allegations of the petition to withdraw clearly and eloquently demonstrate why such petitions should not be considered. The allegation is that the petitioners signed the original petition with a misunderstanding of, or without fully understanding, the legal effects of incorporation of the borough, an dthat since signing they have learned of their previous lack of understanding, or misunderstanding, of the legal effects of the incorporation and have been advised of the true legal effects thereof. The questions are immediately raised as to whether their original understanding or their subsequent understanding of the legal effect of incorporation is correct; who has since advised them of 'the true legal effects'; was such advice correct, and what pressures were brought upon them to sign the second petition. "It is quite evident that there are certain persons in the community in favor of the incorporation of the borough and certain persons who have belatedly decided to oppose incorporation. (It is noted that the same person executed the affidavits to the requests for exclusion of farm lands and the petition to withdraw signatures.) Legal issues cannot be determined by a tug of war between opposing sides getting signatures to petitions attempting to influence action by the court."

MANY YANKEE ATHLETES ON INJURY LIST

By ED CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
LONDON (AP)—Is the grueling schedule of three international meets within eight days causing the rash of injuries and illness that has struck the United States team?

No, said Coach Jumbo Jim Elliott today. The team physician, Dr. Dan Hanley, agreed, and AAU chief Dan Ferris, who arranged the tour, also pooh-poohed the idea.

None of the members of the team was complaining, either, as they took off for Warsaw and the final meet with Poland Friday and Saturday. John Uelses, Bobby Avant, Earl Young, Jim Grelle, Dyrrol Burleson, Paul Drayton, Jerry Siebert, Ken Floerke, Bill Sharpe, John Fromm and Charlie Frazier all were hurting in varying degrees.

IN GOOD CONDITION

"It's just one of those things," said Elliott. "Every once in a while you run into something like this—a whole string of injuries—and you wonder when it is going to end."

"These boys are in superb condition. They are at their peak at this time of year. Most of them could run every day and they wouldn't feel it."

"That, of course, excludes the long distance runners, who have to have some rest in between their races."

Said Hanley: "I'm sure the closeness of the meets has nothing to do with the injuries. I would call it an unfortunate coincidence."

"Last Wednesday night, after we defeated West Germany in Stuttgart, I treated 12 members of our 41-man team."

BEAT 3 NATIONS

Sprinter Frank Budd, who holds the world 100-yard dash record of 9.2, said he didn't mind all the meets but didn't expect he could run close to record time in every start.

George Young, who set an American record of 8:38 for the 3,000-meter steeple chase against Russia, said he usually was tired for a day or two after a long race.

Elliott's squad has beaten Russia, West Germany and Great Britain.

RED TRAVELER IN AREA WHERE YANK LANDED WITH CAPSULE

By BEN PRICE

CAPE CANAVERAL Fla. (AP)—A Soviet trawler equipped with radar reportedly cruised within 20 miles of the spot where astronaut Virgil I. Grissom's space capsule landed in the Atlantic Ocean.

That was the gist of reports from a National Aeronautics and Space Administration official and another source Sunday.

There was no indication steps were being planned to prevent this happening during another suborbital flight. Soviet trawlers have been seen many times off the United States coast in recent months.

TRAWLER IS SIGHTED

Lt. Col. John A. Powers, personal spokesman for the astronaut, reported recovery forces saw the trawler in the general area of the impact zone Friday. James E. Webb, NASA administrator, was asked about the reports that Soviet trawlers had been sighted during a TV-radio interview in Washington.

"Well, of course I do not know exactly what ships were there or what they were there for. But I would guess they were there to learn as much as they could of the whole process," Webb replied.

A NASA spokesman said Grissom, 35, his wife, Betty, and their two sons, Scott 11, and Mark 7, were expected to fly to their home in Newport News, Va., Tuesday night or Wednesday morning for a week's vacation.

EXHAUSTIVE QUESTION

The Air Force captain has been undergoing exhaustive questioning by scientists, doctors and psychologists about his 5,280-mile ride into space Friday.

There will now be a period in which the instrument data recorded by radio will be examined and Grissom will return for additional sessions with the scientists.

Grissom was the second American to enter the fringes of space. The first astronaut was Navy Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr., who made the flight on May 5.

A Lovelier You

FASHION FORETHOUGHTS. If you would care to have more smart clothes to wear and money to spare, begin now to plan your fall wardrobe. Forethought offers those advantages in large measure.

First off it gives you a chance to study the fashion trends as they appear in your newspaper. And keeping abreast of the trends enables you to catch a rising star.

fashion, one that will not be outdated until it is worn out. As a consequence, new purchases become additions instead of replacements.

Too, planning ahead enables you to make unhurried decisions about which of the new colors and silhouettes best dovetail with your looks, wardrobe and life. Settling those points is always essential to being well-dressed.

Lastly, but not least, a clothes plot gains any time needed for shaping your figure to the shape of fashion. And that's something that just can never be hurried.

As of this moment, how do you think your figure would react to these incoming silhouettes: A bodice, bloused at the waistline or hipline; a lengthened bodice, demi-fitted and belted at the hips; a skirt with the geometric flare of a triangle; a hip-bone length jacket; a sinuous column of an evening dress?

Any negative answer, from no to so-so, can be changed to an affirmative in the next few weeks, long before fall fashion time. For ways and means, just watch the column!

To solve the riddle of extra inches around your middle, send today for my leaflet, MIDRIFF SLIMMERS. It contains quick, easy reducing exercises for slimming diaphragm, waist and abdomen. Write me: A Lovelier You, Box 158, The Gettysburg Times, Dundee, Ill., enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and five cents in coin to cover handling.

WOUNDED GIRL CARRIES NEWS OF SHOOTINGS

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—A teenage farm girl with a bullet wound in her stomach ran 2½ miles in the mud to a neighbor's house early today to cry out that her father, three brothers and a sister had been shot to death.

Officers rushed to the Fred Milton Kinsey home, 30 miles northwest of this West Texas oil center, and found Kinsey and four of his children dead.

All had been shot to death. The children were in their pajamas. Kinsey was fully dressed in khaki trousers and a green sports shirt.

MOTHER ABSENT

The children's mother lives in Fort Worth.

The dead children were J. D. Kinsey, 17; Johnny, 13; Jay, 8, and Lilly, 7.

All of the children except Johnny had died of a bullet wound in the heart. Johnny had five wounds in the heart.

Kinsey, 38, had died of a pistol wound in the forehead.

The wounded girl is Louise, 15. Midland County officers said the girl apparently escaped through a bathroom window to flee in her nightclothes to spread the alarm.

Officers said the shootings occurred around 2 a.m.

The recommendations adopted unanimously included cooperation on scientific investigation, logistics, communications, conservation of living resources and preservation of historical sites.

Other nations represented were Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Britain, Chile, France, Japan, New Zealand, Norway and South Africa.

Adequate Hurry-up Meals Require Emergency Stock

Hurry-up meals need to have a stick-to-the-ribs quality, and eye and taste appeal. And it's easy to prepare a hurry-up meal to meet these requirements.

Keep an emergency stock of canned, packaged, or frozen foods.

Possibly the quickest adequate meal is hearty sandwiches made with plenty of meat or cheese, raw carrots, milk, hand fruit, and ice cream.

Or, meat salads using left-over meat or that may go into the oven or on the table without long thawing or preparation time. A variety of such foods can help provide tasty and attractive meals.

chicken or canned meats may be a treat. If the meat is skimpy, try adding chopped hard-cooked eggs. They increase the number of servings and add to the protein value.

Baked beans Canned baked beans are a good base for a hurry-up meal. Adding a cup of chopped wieners or other meat to the beans increases protein mileage. Serve with coleslaw, milk, and fruit and you add to the vitamin and mineral content of the meal.

Dishwashers are becoming more flexible. For example, adjustable inner dividers make placement of large pans and odd-shaped pieces easier, while an increased capacity makes it possible to wash more dishes at one time.

Many dishwashers contain booster hot water heaters, and improved water distribution allows random placement of items in the dishwasher.

Washing cycle Flexibility is built into the washing cycle, too. Pots and pans may be rinsed in the machine before going through the full wash cycle. Double wash or multiple rinse cycles may be used if needed.

Mobile dishwashers are becoming popular. They're easy to move from place to place, and easy to connect to hot and cold water taps. Both top loading and front loading mobile dishwashers are available.

Satisfactory performance of an electric dishwasher depends upon water temperature, water softness, and washing compound, as well as the machine. Water temperature inside the machine should be 140 to 160 degrees and the washing compound should be one made especially for dishwashers.

In hard water areas, a water softener may improve the efficiency of the dishwasher.

MULTI-PURPOSE UTENSILS What kitchen utensil does a new homemaker need? She should select ones that will serve several purposes.

An oblong cake pan may be used for a roasting pan, or for baking cookies, breads, or rolls. A loaf pan hold breads, cakes, meat loaves, or molded salads. A casserole with a pie pan cover has many uses. The casserole may serve as a mixing bowl, a salad bowl, and a refrigerator dish. The pie pan may serve as a cover or baking dish.

A double broiler is versatile. Either the bottom pan or the inset pan is useful by itself. The bottom makes a saucepan, while the inset pan may be a casserole, a baking dish, a salad bowl, or a mixing bowl.

TWIN FRY PAN A twin fry pan or a chicken fryer serves many purposes. The twin fry pan becomes two pans as well as one with a cover and may be used for surface cooking and oven baking. The chicken fryer holds a large amount of stew or spaghetti, a pot roast, or fried foods. Custard cups are multi-purpose. They may be used for baking custards, individual cakes or rolls, or popovers. Or they may be used for refrigerating leftovers or for salad molds.

These basic pieces may be supplemented with saucepans in one.

AWARDS were presented to all Old-timers and to all Little League All Stars on both teams. The Littlestown Lads defeated the twin city Cardinals, 9 to 8.

Awards to the oldest Old-timers, went to Jim Bowers and Harvey Tressler, both 72 years of age, and to "Turney" Ecker for coming the greatest distance, from Stewartstown. The threatening weather in surrounding areas prevented some of the Old-timers from attending the game.

The Lions Club expressed appreciation to the Old-timers who appeared, the patrons and the merchants who provided the prizes, for their assistance in starting a Student Aid Fund, for which the proceeds from the game have been earmarked.

The following local merchants contributed the prizes for Old-timers and Little Leaguers: Her-ring's Meat, Market, I. D. Crouse and Son, Marvin's, Wintrod's Garage, Bowman's Market, W. H. The Rev. G. Howard Koons, pastor of Christ United Church of Christ, near Littlestown, officiated. Interment was in the Christ Church Cemetery. Pallbearers were six grandsons, Kenneth, James and Phares Harget Jr., Lester, Glenn and Burnell Myers.

Family Reunion Is Held Sunday The 16th Nicholas Guise reunion was held Sunday afternoon at the South Mountain Fairgrounds. Ralph W. Guise, a former president, presided in the absence of president, Harold Guise, Lester Guise, vice president, assisted, as did Mrs. Archie Guise, secretary, and Mrs. Paul Guise, treasurer.

"America, the Beautiful," was sung, followed by the reading of the 23rd Psalm by Mary Guise. Lloyd V. Weidner, in a tribute to his father, Herman W. Weidner, founder of the Nicholas Guise reunion and its first president, spoke of his father's keen interest in this group. He read excerpts of the eulogy given by the Rev. Dr. Dwight F. Putman, former pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, Gettysburg, and now president of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the United Lutheran Church, at his father's funeral service.

Entertainment included a welcome by Gregory and Rusty Baldwin, recitation by Dawn Lobaugh and a reading by Mrs. Freeman Glass. Marriages and births were read followed by a silent prayer for the departed members. Prizes were given to the following persons: Youngest, Donald Rhodes Jr.; oldest, Curtis Golden; parents with the most children, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rhodes; couple most recently married, Mr. and Mrs. John Day; oldest person with no dentures, Curtis Golden; family traveling the farthest, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Guise. The meeting closed with the singing of "Bless by the Tie That Binds."

1000 RIOT IN IDAHO TOWN; 41 ARRESTED COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (AP)—Hundreds of rioters swung fists and threw bottles Sunday for 4½ hours before officers and National Guardsmen calmed down this town of 15,000.

Officers estimated up to 1,000 took part in the violence, and another 2,000 onlookers milled about to watch the excitement.

Fire hoses and tear gas were used to quell the outburst, but it wasn't until National Guardsmen appeared that peace returned.

At least three persons were hurt. Wesley Perkins, 23, Winslow, Ariz., and Jackie Linde, 36, Boise, Idaho, were given hospital attention and released.

41 ARE ARRESTED Officers arrested 41 of the brawlers, ranging in age from 15 to 26. A special session of police court was held, and Judge Don Averitt fined most $100 and gave them suspended sentence on such charges as minors possessing and consuming liquor.

A store window was broken, a store door was cracked, and a car windshield was smashed. Streets and sidewalks were littered with broken beer bottles.

The town was jammed with a crowd of about 60,000 who came to see hydroplane racing on Lake Coeur d'Alene.

Police Chief Reine Schmidt said the mob started building up about midnight. That is the time beer sales stop on Saturday nights in Washington, which is 12 miles west. Sales are unrestricted in Idaho.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times
ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

The Three - Month Volunteers:

Within a few days it is estimated that eighty thousand volunteers will be discharged from the service, their terms of enlistment (three months) having expired. This force will comprise nearly all who rushed from the loyal States to the defense of the National Capital and Fortress Monroe, while these points were in momentary danger of an attack; also most of the garrison at Baltimore and Annapolis, and a large number of Patterson's corps who compelled the enemy to evacuate Harper's Ferry. Beyond the mountains they also comprise a portion of McClellan's division in Western Virginia, Prentiss's at Cairo, and Lyon's in Missouri. Looking at what they have done, whether by way of prevention or cure, the country can only say of them, "Well done, good and faithful servants!"

Herman Haupt, formerly of Gettysburg and not long since the Chief Engineer of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, has been appointed Assistant Secretary of War. This office has been created during the present extra session of Congress, and the salary fixed at three thousand dollars. Mr. Haupt is a graduate of West Point, of the class of 1859. He was placed there by General Jackson in 1835, at an early age. He is a man of considerable talent.

Received A Kicking: On Saturday night, a tall nondescript specimen of humanity entered Monument Square singing "Dixie" as the band attached to Col. Lyle's Regiment was playing the "Star Spangled Banner." A soldier standing near handed his gun to a comrade, and approaching the Dixieite gave him an excellent kicking. The operation was witnessed by several hundred persons who were highly amused at the operation. Dixie slunk away from the neighborhood looking as mean as a sheep stealing cur.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Barn Burns: On Sunday week the large barn on what is known as "Wilson farm," about two miles north of Dry Run, Franklin county, owned by Mr. D. D. Skinner, was struck by lightning and burned with all its contents. The farm is tenanted by a son of Mr. D. D. Skinner. There were in the barn about forty tons of hay, fifty bushels of old wheat, six loads of wheat recently hauled in, one of them on a good Milburn wagon, two excellent horses, all the gears and about one and one-half tons of coal. All was destroyed. The loss falls heavily on Mr. Skinner, who had no insurance.

South Penn Railroad: A reliable gentleman financially interested in the South Penn railroad says nothing had recently been done looking toward the completion of the line nor is anything likely to be done very soon. Mr. Twombly, Vanderbilt's son-in-law, who has more money invested in the scheme than any other individual and who may be said to be its controlling power, is in Europe and will not be home until October. Besides, a decision from the Supreme Court can not be expected until it convenes in the fall.

The Philadelphia Press has a detail-record of post-office changes in Pennsylvania since the present administration came into power, with profuse professions of Civil Service reform, which was to regard office as a "public trust" and to make no removals for partisan purposes. It has taken just sixteen months to change 2,033 of the 3,887 postmasters in the state, or 53 per cent of the whole number. As like changes have been going on throughout the Union, it has kept Mr. Vilas and his deputies pretty busy. Surely Democratic

Today's Talk

MIX AND FIND
He who gives to a world must find out from that world what it lacks or most truly desires. We must mean something to at least a few. Life mustn't be so disappointing that we would shrink and sink into a pleasurable selfishness.

No one is ever able to find himself except through contact with the hard facts of life and then earnestly seeking some honest and upright solution, through toil, study and sacrifice.

Stevenson said in his essay on Thoreau, "What we want to see is one who can breathe into the world, do a man's work, and still preserve his first and pure enjoyment of existence."

We must walk right into the middle of life, mix and find.

And when we get well into this moving of men and women, we find ourselves puzzlingly confronted time and again with an eternal pair of words, like two opposing eyes—Yes and No.

We find it much easier to say "yes." Yet by our "no" is the bent of our character formed.

When you say "no," you touch one of the positive notes of nobility of action—although Emerson said that "it is a useful accomplishment to be able to say no, but surely it is the essence of amiability to prefer to say yes where it is possible."

Life is a series of choices. What we are, what we enjoy, and what we reap is the result of what we choose and what we do with our choices.

We must be strong. The crowd is no place for the weak. Strength is largely a matter of mind, and then a determination of spirit.

Yes, the world is hard—but mix and find!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Weakness." Protected, 1961, by The George Matthews Adams Service

Just Folks

THE LOVER OF ANTIQUES
Chairs that are ancient and musty,
Candlesticks tarnished and green,
Flintlocks now crumbled and rusty,
Cabinets seldom now seen—
These are the things that delight him,
These are the joys that he seeks.

Modern contrivances fright him—
Lover, he is, of antiques.
And of curious fashion,
Patterned long ages ago,
Arouse all the fires of his passion;
Oh, but he covets them so.

Spinning wheel, time-worn and broken,
Loudly, when turning, it squeaks;
Still of the past it's a token—
Lover, he is, of antiques.

Clock all of wood and hand carving,
Priceless to him it would be;
What though today he were starving,
Such a treasure so sadly neglected.

Joy sends the blood to his cheeks;
Though he starve, here's a gem resurrected
Lover, he is, of antiques.

Wednesday's Game

Mummasburg at Littlestown

Heat and rain played an important part in Sunday afternoon's South Penn Baseball League as three games were washed out and several players, whose teams managed to play, were overcome by the extremely hot weather.

Cashtown at Bonneauville, Taneytown at Brushtown and Littlestown at Hunterstown were all called off as the rains began to fall in those areas.

Mummasburg split a pair of games over the weekend as they edged Hunterstown 4-3, Saturday and dropped a 5-3 decision to Gettysburg Sunday on the winner's field. Gettysburg picked up its fourth win of the season and has now moved into a tie with Mummasburg for 11th place. Tom Shields went the distance for the winners allowing nine hits and striking out seven batters.

Mummasburg scored three times in the top of the third inning to take a 3-0 lead, but an improved Gettysburg team knotted the count in the fourth and went on to score once in the fifth and one more in the seventh. Mummasburg threatened in the eighth when E. White led off with a single, but a snappy double play from Orner to Fox to Gilbert stamped out the threat.

Gilbert Leads Attack

Bob Gilbert, topped the winning attack with a trio of hits including a double, triple, and single for four at bats. Deardoff paced Mummasburg with the same number of hits.

Led by Shultz's home run and a double by Pitzer, Arendtsville continued its assault on first place by dropping Fairfield 7-0 on the winner's field. Pitzer went the distance on the mound for Arendtsville giving up but seven hits and striking out six. Weikert and Sites took care of the hurling for Fairfield.

One of the outstanding performances of the year was turned in by pitcher Don Sweeney of Harney as he tossed his team to a 4-3 decision over McSherrystown in a contest that lasted 18 innings. Sweeney pitched the entire ball game that was played in such tremendous heat that several of the players were overcome. The performance of the Harney right-hander was so outstanding that he received praise from both opponents and fans during the encounter. Harney managed to cross the plate in the bottom of the 18th inning when Waybright gave up a single.

Were the Williamsport Grays trying too hard or is it that the Springfield Giants just too much bench strength, particularly in relief pitching.

Any way you look at it today, the Giants are 4½ games in front of Williamsport thanks to a doubleheader sweep Sunday over the Grays, 6-5 and 4-3.

Ken Bracey saved the first game for Dick Slomkowski (3-3) in the ninth while the nightcap, scheduled for seven innings, went into an extra frame with reliever Bill Linder (7-1) getting the victory in 1 2-3 innings of scoreless pitching Sunday.

In other Eastern League games Sunday, Binghamton on defeated Lancaster 7-2 and Reading beat Johnston 4-3.

Barlick, oldest N. L. umpire in point of service, although not in age, almost made a clean sweep of the boards in the survey by the national baseball weekly.

The 46-year-old arbiter was rated the best man on balls and strikes, best on the bases, best on the rules, best at being in the right position to make his calls, most respected and most serious minded.

Berry drew votes from the A. L. managers and coaches for best knowledge of the rules, easiest to talk to, quickest at making decisions, most diplomatic and most easy going.

Ed Runge was regarded as the best A. L. umpire on balls and strikes, while Nestor Chylak won in the categories of best on the bases, best at keeping the game moving and best at being in the right position.

On the critical side of The Sporting News' poll, Frank Dascoli of the National League and Ed Hurley of the American League were voted the most difficult to talk to, most sarcastic, quickest to eject players, "worst pop-off" and "biggest grandstander" among the umpires in their circuits.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

THE KITCHEN FAMILY

The somewhat sketchy biographical account of William Penn, the founder, and his descendants, is concluded at this time.

When William Penn left England in 1699 for his second stay in Pennsylvania he had hoped to become a permanent resident of the province. With this end in view his family had accompanied him — to "set up house" as it were in the new country. But, like so many of his most cherished ambitions, this dream on Penn's part was not to be realized. At the outbreak of the War of Spanish Succession a proposal was made to the English Parliament to annex all proprietary colonies to the Crown. William Penn's presence in England thus became essential and late in 1701 he again said farewell to his province — this time not to return.

At this time it would seem that the constructive work of Penn's life had now been largely accomplished. He was able to retain his proprietorship but his last years were full of trouble and disappointment. He was harassed by almost continual disputes between his governor and the Pennsylvania Assembly. His own choice of deputies and helpers were not always happy ones. Some blame for the apparently endless bickering existed on both sides.

HAD EMBARRASMENTS

In addition to all his other troubles Penn had serious pecuniary embarrassments and for a time languished in a debtor's prison. Unfortunately the founder never seemed to have the least idea of how "to handle money" and the fortune (for that day) left by his father, the cautious old Admiral Penn, did not last too long — for the son spent freely with no thought of the future. The founder's despair was further intensified, in humiliation and sorrow, because of the dissolute life of his son. William Penn Jr. Yet he (Penn) continued to some degree his activities of writing and speaking — doing all that he could to further the causes in which he so ardently believed.

In 1709, at 65 years of age, Penn travelled "in the ministry" through several counties of England — no small feat for a man of that age. Three years later, in 1712, he had almost arranged for the sale of his proprietary rights (or government) to the Crown when he suffered an attack of apoplexy which soon destroyed his memory and rendered him incapable of further administering his affairs. His faithful wife, Hannah (Callowhill) Penn, ably supervised his business interests — a difficult, thankless task — until Penn's death on July 30, 1718 — at the age of 74 years.

INHERITED BY SONS

In 1717, after the death of Hannah (Callowhill) Penn, and that of her youngest son, Dennis Penn, the proprietorship of Pennsylvania passed into the hands of his surviving sons, John, Thomas, and Richard Penn.

William Penn, the founder, his wives, and many of his children are buried in the burial ground of the Quaker Meeting House known as Jordan's, in Buckinghamshire, England. Many years ago, according to a fairly reliable tradition, some of the markers designating the graves of members of the Penn family were reset and inaccurately replaced. Taking this bit of evidence at its face value it is very possible that the exact site of the Penn graves will never be known.

This concludes, for the present, the biographical data on the Penn family. The historical and genealogical study of the "Upper" Low Dutch Churchyard of the Conewago is resumed with notes on the Kitchen family, which must have been, at one time, a numerous and influential clan in the Low Dutch Settlement.

Today, in the "Upper" Low Dutch Churchyard, but one marker remains in the Kitchen family burial lot — although there are at least six other graves — which were never marked or else the stones have long since disappeared. The inscription cut on the one remaining grave stone reads as follows:

1. "In memory of Joseph Kitchen, Died October 25, 1854, Aged 66 years."

In the list of "heads of families at Conewago," compiled by the late Rev. Dr. Demarest is found the name of Derrick Kitchen. It is reasonable to assume that this man came into what is now Adams County, Pennsylvania, from New Jersey and is the pioneer ancestor, in this section of the Kitchen family, records of the Dutch Reformed Congregation of the Conewago make no mention of the Kitchens but the files of the old "Adams Centinel" (later the "Star and Sentinel") do throw some light on the subject.

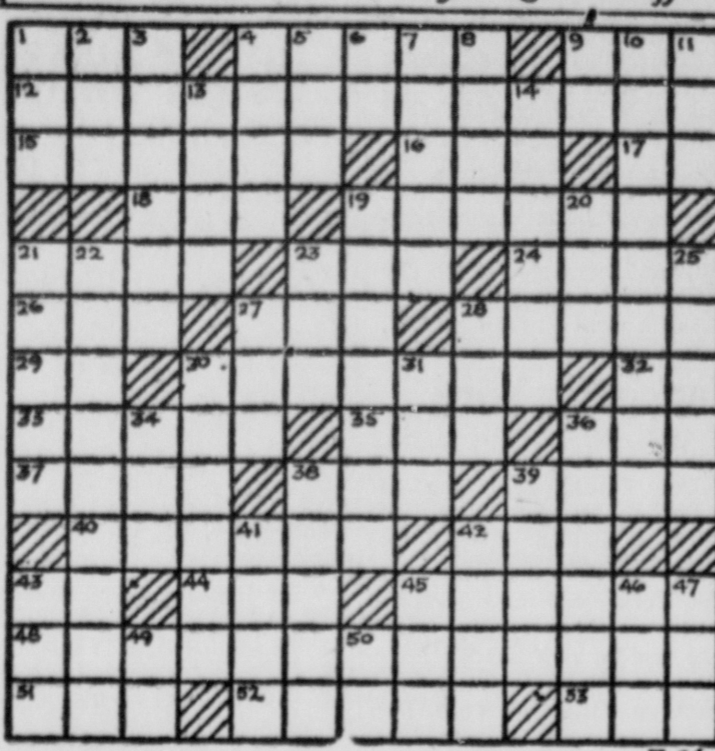

1. Wednesday, December 4, 1811 — "Married, Thursday, November 28, 1811, by the Rev. David McConaughty, of this place, Mr. Isaac Bercaw, the son of Mr. Peter Percaw, to Miss Hetty Kitchen, all of this County."

OTHER DATA

Note: — Hetty (Kitchen) Bercaw was, without a doubt, the sister of the Joseph Kitchen, whose grave is in the "Upper" Low Dutch Churchyard. The Bercaws were another "Low Dutch" family — who buried in the same graveyard.

37 Die In State Traffic; Other Mishaps Over Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Twenty persons were killed in traffic accidents, 11 drowned and six died in other accidents in Pennsylvania over the weekend.

The overall toll of 37—second highest this year for any weekend—was reflected in the hot, muggy weather which sent thousands to the highways seeking relief at beaches and resorts. During the July 4 holiday weekend, 40 persons died in accidents.

The traffic toll, which included four multiple fatalities, was the highest for any weekend this year in Pennsylvania. It surpassed the previous mark of 16 over the 102-hour Memorial Day weekend.

One traffic accident took four lives near Lancaster Sunday. Killed were Richard Carl, 27, Mrs. Jean Grennawalt, 22, Mrs. Juanita Reich, 50, and Mrs. Jeanne Lowery, 25, all of Lancaster. Police said Carl apparently was driving at a high speed when the auto crashed into a tractor-trailer. Officers said the victims were believed to have been at a club a short time before the accident.

SIMILAR ACCIDENTS

Two other separate traffic accidents were similar in that the victims were rushing to aid others apparently in distress.

Rolla Berg, 49, a veteran of 20 years service with the Philadelphia fire department, was killed when a fire engine rushing to answer a box alarm collided with a car. Eight other persons, including five firemen, were injured. Officials said the fire turned out to be nothing more than a pot of meat burning on a stove. Berg was due to retire next November.

And near Biglerville in Adams County, Augusto Mercado Solivan, 32, a migrant farm laborer from Palm Beach, Fla., was killed Sunday night when his car crashed into an embankment on Route 34.

Officers said Solivan was rushing Mrs. Gertrude Viola Tyler, 44, of Mount Holly Springs, to a hospital after she suffered bullet wounds during an argument in a home. Mrs. Tyler was reported in fair condition.

NEW JERSEY RESIDENTS

Two New Jersey residents, Wilbur Forner Jr., 26, and Ralph Nye, 16, both of Dunellen, were led and three others injured Sunday when their car crashed into a guard rail and burst into flames near Hazleton.

In a crash Saturday near Warren two New York state residents, Joseph W. Snyder, 41, and William A. Lewis, 37, were killed when their car plowed into a tree where two other persons died last October the same way.

A car crashed into a tree near Berwick Saturday, killing Charles Hartman, 69, and his 67-year-old wife.

Among the drowning victims were David Varos, 11, and Richard Cole, 9, cousins from Savar R. 1, Butler County, who stepped into a sharp drop off a public beach Sunday along the Allegheny River at Freeport.

FIRE KILLS 3

A fire claimed three lives. John Danton, 41, and two daughters, June 6, and Carole, 3, died Saturday in a blaze at their home in Pine Grove R. 1, Schuylkill County.

Other victims:

Canonsburg — Chaunceyeyeyey 48, of Canonsburg, Friday night when his car struck a tree in Upper St. Clair Twp.

Reading — James Megri, 23, Reading, when his car plunged down a 25 foot embankment Saturday.

MODELS GROW AS HOBBY WITH MANY IN U. S.

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Space flights and nuclear subs have captured the fancy of the hobbyists as well as the general public. But interest in the old favorites—autos, trains, ships and the like—also is reported on the rise among the collectors or assemblers of models as a hobby.

One maker reports demand for new kits for fashioning small but close copies of cars—whether hot rods or vintage types—is up 20 per cent this year from last. They now represent 45 per cent of his total sales.

Boys under 18 show the greatest interest in hot rod models. Jack M. Bessen, president of Monogram Models Inc., Chicago, suspects they are boning up for the day they can own or operate a real one.

MODELS ARE UP

Models of military planes also are selling at a 20 per cent increase this year, Bessen says, and make up 25 per cent of total sales.

Authenticity of some of the models in the defense field drew fire recently from Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover. He said details of a $2.98 model of the Delaware River here.

Uniontown — Gasper Pivarchy, 75, a retired Uniontown miner, accidentally shot himself Saturday while hunting groundhogs near here.

Pittsburgh — Janet Goyak, 9, of Shaler Twp., fractured her skull Sunday when she hit an obstruction while diving into the water at nearby Shaler.

Coalbrook — Timothy Reese, 19-months-old, Connelville, R. D., hit by a train Sunday near his home.

Pittsburgh — Gregory Basticki, 16, of Bellevue, drowned Sunday while swimming with companions in a farm pond in Ohio Township.

Reading — Lee Orrs, 2, of Reading, drowned Sunday night in a swimming pool at the Meadowbrook Country Club in Bern Township.

Irwin — Raymond Bernoski, 15, of Irwin, who never swam before, drowned Sunday night in a reservoir.

Polaris sub was so exact that the Russians could get nuclear secrets from it.

Makers of model ships, submarines and planes were quick to assert they only copied unclassified information given them by the military services, or what they learned from photos and news stories in the technical and popular press.

WIDE INTEREST

The Navy says it gives unclassified blueprints to model manufacturers, but gives away no secrets. Ideal Toy Corp. of Hollis, N.Y., notes that the military services often vie in getting models produced for use in recruiting drives or to encourage interest in youngsters.

All manufacturers reported wide interest in such models among the nation's youth—and fathers.

Revell of Venice, Calif., makes models of rocket planes and fighter planes, as well as the Polaris, advertises them as accurate to within one thousandth of an inch, but says they involve no secret data.

DEVOTION TO CARs

Renewal Products of Mineola, N.Y., says it asks the Navy for only such information as is available to the public. It also studies published photos based on artists' conceptions.

Various corporations not in the hobby business sponsor or distribute models of the implements of their trades—such as oil rigs, rail tank cars, trucks, all bearing the identifying mark of the company or its products.

Part of the success of auto kits is credited to improvements within the model industry in recent years.

But the popularity of auto kits, in spite of public absorption in space vehicles, is credited by the makers to America's mass devotion to cars.

TWO-WAY BLOCKADE
Berlin Show-down Should Not Be On Land
Path To Peace Is Smoothest By Sea

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin State College, Superior

THE BERLIN question has precipitated all sorts of suggestions from diplomats and students of strategy as to the best procedure for meeting force with force, without creating another world war; should Russia sign a separate treaty with East Germany, which, in turn, would close the present air and ground corridors for another Berlin blockade.

All seem to agree that a repetition of the Truman airlift formula will not again work. The air corridor rights which existed with Russia, but not with a free East Germany, will have been abrogated by the Russian-East German treaty.

There is equal agreement that the present allied garrison of West Berlin, consisting of 5,000 American and 7,000 English and French troops, cannot hold their share of the city against the 100,000 East German soldiers and the six Russian divisions now within the immediate vicinity of greater Berlin.

THESE ESTIMATES ignore the 20 additional Russian divisions in East Germany that could, and most likely would, participate in immediate hostilities to prevent NATO troops in West Germany from marching to the relief of our Berlin garrison.

Against these odds, such experts as Major General Max S. Johnson, former commandant, U. S. Army War College, and the Army's chief of staff, General George H. Decker, are already citing the possible use of small, battlefield types of nuclear weapons.

But use of little nuclears by both sides must inevitably lead through gradual progression to the use of ever larger nuclear bursts.

The inevitable result can only be the all-out, strategic bombing cities in addition to the smaller battlefield targets.

And that is what frightens the world, and must also frighten Nikita Khrushchev.

Since, as General Decker points out, there could be a war in which both sides restrain from all atomics, the result could only be another long war between conventional ground forces using nonatomic weapons. In this the overwhelming odds would still favor Russia.

The Soviets are already there "firstest with the mostest," to borrow a phrase from the Confederacy's General N. B. Forrest.

THE KEY to success in diplomatic and military strategy is found in the avoidance of combat with an opponent where he is strong. The correct move is to call for the show-down where America and her allies are strong.

It is the old bridge game rule of "leading from strength."

In this situation, what is the West's longest and strongest suit? In what area is Russia weakest?

Obviously, it is at sea, United States alone, in every category except conventional type submarines, has far greater strength than Russia. Add to this the navies of England, France and other NATO partners, and all three of the narrow sea approaches to European Russia could be blockaded.

An independent East Germany, unsupported by Russia, is equally vulnerable to a blockade, though her friendly neighbors would have to be restricted to a volume of seaborne commerce no higher than that of the previous year, as a guarantee they would not tranship to East Germany.

FROM THESE FACTORS a sound, diplomatic strategy for dealing with the Berlin situation can be evolved.

East Germany's Red bosses and Khrushchev should be told forthrightly that America and her allies have no intention of repeating an airlift rescue of the West Berliners.

Moreover, the Western powers have no intention of attacking anybody anywhere. But should existing air and land corridors be closed by a Soviet recognized East Germany, thereby abrogating the West's pledges to the free peoples of central Europe, a naval counter-blockade of East Germany, and of such other Communist nations as might actively support her, will be immediate.

KHRUSHCHEV could easily be spoiling for a small land war with nonatomic weapons in which he could hope to win quickly. But he will ponder the situation a long time before committing himself to an unspectacular, prolonged, nonatomic naval war in which he could never win.

Of course, Russia could take the offensive against NATO land forces in West Germany as a counter measure against the sea blockade, but these NATO ground forces would be in strong defensive positions and under heavy air cover. Their chances at a successful holding would be far better than attempting an offensive of their own in an effort to open, and keep open, the corridors to Berlin.

But most likely Khrushchev's first countermeasure would be more nearly on America's terms. Failing that, his first actual attack would be nonatomic operations with planes and submarines against the blockading NATO naval forces.

But in any event, Russia would have to bear the onus of starting the hostilities. In a sea and air warfare, the Communists would suffer many handicaps and disadvantages. So many would they suffer, in fact, that East Germany and Russia would keep the peace. That is what we want.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Twenty-four sacks containing Communist propaganda from Moscow, Peking and East Germany, shipped in Cuban diplomatic pouches, were seized by Mexican authorities at Mexico City airport Friday.

FARM INCOME IN STATE OFF $3.5 MILLION

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania's total cash farm income was off about $3.5 million during the first five months of 1961, about one per cent below the first five months of 1960. The biggest reduction was recorded in income from crops.

Receipts from crop sales were down some $2.9 million. Livestock and livestock products receipts were off $561,000. The percentage drop in the crop category was much larger relative than in the livestock branch of agriculture because total receipts from crops in Pennsylvania are much smaller annually than those from livestock and livestock products.

The Pennsylvania picture ran counter to the national cash marketing figures for the same period. They were three per cent above last year.

ESTIMATED NET
The U. S. Agriculture Department estimated that realized net income of farmers during the first half of 1961 would be about 12 per cent above 1960.

Prospects are not so bright for Pennsylvania producers, especially so because of problems in the poultry and dairy industries. The difficulties of Pennsylvania's two major livestock industries were reflected in the reduced receipts for the first part of the year, while nationally receipts for livestock were up about three per cent.

CROP RECEIPTS
Nationally, crop receipts were up about five per cent; in Pennsylvania off about four per cent.

Total receipts do not reflect the actual economic situation of producers. In many instances, over the years total receipts have gone up while realized net income has remained the same, or declined. In some cases the opposite was true.

In Pennsylvania the decline in cash marketings—especially in the livestock industries—directly reflects price reductions for commodities sold.

Most signs indicate that the volume of commodities going to the markets is the same or larger than last year. The result was that Pennsylvania producers found themselves in a gloomy situation during the first half of the year. Prospects are it will not get better.

SELINGSGROVE, Pa. (AP)—William Gessmer, 12, of New Berlin, was killed Friday when a tractor pulling a baler went out of control and fell over an embankment four miles north of Selingsgrove.

State Police said Gessmer was riding on a tractor driven by Gary Zechman, 12, of Selingsgrove. R. 1. Gessmer apparently was jolted out of his seat and fell beneath the tractor and baler, they said.

Zechman and two unidentified boys riding on the baler jumped to safety.

FARMER SMITH FINED $321 FOR OVERPLANTING

BIG FLATS, N.Y. (AP)—Farmer William T. Smith, who bought a $6,100 Cadillac with a government subsidy for not planting corn, overplanted his wheat allotment and owes a fine, a federal agency contends.

Along with a pile of fan mail, including correspondence from Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., a letter arrived from the Chemung County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. Smith said Friday night.

While Goldwater told Smith other farmers "clear across the country" admired his public protest against farm subsidies, the county committee told him it was fining him $321.84 for planting 26 acres in wheat last year, 7.1 acres in excess of his 18.9-acre allotment.

SEEK QUICK PAYMENT
Smith met the Arizona senator earlier this month when he drove the "Caddy" to Washington. A sign on the car said a government subsidy paid for it. Farmer Smith became news.

The first notice that he had exceeded the 1960 wheat quota, Smith claimed, arrived July 11, after he had gained nationwide publicity.

Another letter, last Tuesday requested immediate payment of the fine.

Smith plans an appeal to the state review committee of the Agricultural Stabilization Committee (an Agriculture Department unit). He said he would be forced to pay the fine if the state committee upheld it.

CAN'T HIDE CROP

Last year, the county committee "didn't bother to check" whether he grew wheat, Smith said.

"They knew I raised wheat every year. My wheat crop borders on the highway. It couldn't be hidden very well."

The wheat program is compulsory. Participation in the corn program is voluntary.

The farmer has been in trouble with his wheat allotment in the past. He deliberately exceeded his 1954 quota, he acknowledged, because he felt the government had

PESKY BIRDS OFTEN TOUGH ON MARIGOLDS

By FRANCIS STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Everybody laughed at me a while back when I wrote of some pesky birds yanking marigold plants out of my garden and zooming off with them. Now, heh, heh, I have the last ha, ha.

My veracity—and my sanity—has been upheld by some nice folks who kindly wrote from various parts of the country to say I wasn't goofy.

Still, I had to endure a lot of hooting and jeering before this fortunate turn of event.

CUTWORMS, MY EYE

Even my old friend Ronald Aultry, who is chief of the Associated Press Bureau in New Haven, Conn., and a marigold man himself, couldn't resist twitting me. "A likely story," he commented in a note, "It's a case of cutworms."

Cutworms, my eye.

Just listen to this, from Mrs. A. W. Thornton of 105 Maple St., East Longmeadow, Mass.:

"I believe you because we've had the same thing happen here. The bird is a starling.

VERY DISCOURAGING

"Also, when we have zinnias a small yellow bird has pulled off the petals and dropped them on the ground. We could not understand why—unless it is to get at the seed.

"Anyway, it is very discouraging to plant flowers and have them destroyed. But we don't know what can be done about it.

"Hope such a thing doesn't continue."

Thank you very much, Mrs. Thornton—but I must say I'm beginning to worry about my zinnias now.

SORE AT STARLING

Now here is another communication, from Elmer F. Korilla of 239 Terrace Ave., Hasbrouck Heights, N.J.:

"I read your piece about the vanishing marigolds. You are not goofy or batty, for I had it happen to me.

"The marigold-snatcher is that reprobate, flop-house and skid-row character of the avian world, the starling.

"Heaven forgive me for maligning one of God's little feathered creatures, even when he always looks as though he had just been kicked off a slow freight, and sometimes tries to kid people into thinking he is a mocking bird.

"We have a sizable planter across the front of our garage roof. A family of these wacky characters nest somewhere about the house next door—in the attic, I suspect.

"In the a.m. during winter and early spring they sit on the edge of their roof and cuss me out when I go off to work (we talk to each other).

"I cuss them because last year they started by picking up the spent blooms of our petunias, which I nip off, then took to lifting about 6 or 8 sizable snapdragon plants and several marigolds. I assume they like a fragrant nest.

"Perhaps you might try shaking some moth flakes on the plants late at night. I don't know whether that would deter them—they are such nutty birds they might also carry the flakes.

"Hope this lets you feel a bit better."

SOME REAL RISKS

Well, Elmer, it sure does. It also makes me glad I didn't plant any snapdragons.

I don't know about those moth flakes though. I shudder to think what my razzing neighbors would say if my garden began to smell like mothballs.

Also, it makes me think of another friend here at the office who had troubles with rabbits chewing up marigolds and petunias around his summer home.

He got some kind of rabbit-bane powder and sprinkled it on the plants. It smelled so bad it kept the rabbits away, all right.

It also just about forced my friend and his family to abandon the premises.

SAYS TRAILER BILL TO PASS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Minority Leader James S. Berger, R-Potter, today saw good prospects for Senate adoption of a bill to legalize 40-foot trailers on Pennsylvania highways.

"In my opinion the chances for passage are good," Berger said. "Although I haven't taken a count yet, I know there is support for the bill on our (Republican) side."

But another Republican, Sen. John T. Van Sant, thought that the odds were running against passage of the legislation at the present time. He is one of the chief backers of the measure.

"Unless we can gain some time, we probably will lose," Van Sant said.

His statement sparked speculation that proponents of the bill might try to put off consideration of it this week.

Senate Majority Leader Charles R. Weiner, D-Philadelphia, said the bill definitely would be brought to a vote but he didn't

Rain Halts "Wade In" Of Negroes

CHICAGO (AP)—A light rain ended a brief "wade in" demonstration in a nearly empty South Side beach traditionally used only by white bathers.

About 30 Negroes and white persons took part in the demonstration Sunday under the watchful eye of a 200-man police force assigned to the public beach. The demonstrators left after about 45 minutes when rain started to fall.

Previous demonstrations have been marked by shouting, jeering and sand kicking incidents.

Coast Battered By Hurricane Anna

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The British Honduras coast was battered today by 90-mile-an-hour winds and 7- to 10-foot tides as Hurricane Anna moved inland out of the Caribbean Sea.

Anna had moved to 100 statute miles southeast of Belize and at 2 a.m. (EST) the storm's center was near the coast about 50 miles east of Puerto Cortez.

Highest winds were estimated at 90 m.p.h. over a small area near the storm's center, with gales extending outward 150 miles into the northern semicircle.

As the storm moves inland, particularly as it reaches mountainous area, it will begin diminishing. Forecasters said Anna would play out over the Yucatan Peninsula.
